It also uses first-party cookies to collect data on both mobile and web properties on the site that the user is actually visiting. These cookies use the IP address assigned to you on the date you visit this site, rather than your name or other identifying information. GA4 uses this cookie data for statistical analysis related to your browsing behavior on that specific website and Sequoyah Regional Library System (SRLS) uses it to only improve this site.

Note. Sequoyah Regional Library System (SRLS) does not require you to set cookies to use analytics or combine the information collected through the use of GA4 with personally identifiable information. Therefore, you can prevent Google Analytics 4 from recognizing you on return visits to this site by disabling cookies in the preferences settings in your web browser. According to Google, the data collected cannot be altered or retrieved by services from other domains. The library also uses a system recovery software known as Deep Freeze to protect public computers against vulnerabilities and threats by rebooting and restoring.

Google’s ability to use and share information collected by GA4 about your visits to this site is restricted by the Google Analytics Terms of Use (as amended for government websites  EditSign) and the Google Privacy Policy. For more information on GA4, please visit Google Analytics 4.
